International Cross Border Mediation

The European Directive on Cross Border Mediations came into force in May of this year. We believe that as parties become more familiar with the Directive and realise the benefits of mediation there will be a considerable growth in international mediations.

Independent Mediators comprises six of the UK's top commercial mediators (Charles Dodson, Phillip Howell-Richardson, Michel Kallipetis QC, Mark Lomas QC, Bill Marsh and Nicholas Pryor) who between them have been appointed in excess of 3,500 mediations.

A significant proportion of their mediations have involved international parties, and many also have taken place outside the UK. Between them our mediators have been appointed in mediations involving parties from some 75 countries, in disputes covering countless aspects of law and business, from banking to agency, distribution agreements to financial services and insurance to international trade

Some of our mediators were also involved in advising the European Commission and Parliament on drafting the Directive, and have consulted widely to European and other governments on mediation legislation and development.

With this unique breadth of international experience our mediators are ideally placed to act in international mediations.
