

Mark Lomas QC joins Independent Mediators

Mark Lomas QC has accepted an invitation from the members of Independent Mediators to join their Mediation Chambers with effect from 1st June 2009.

In the last five years Mark has established a reputation as one of the most sought-after commercial mediators, particularly in his specialist field of professional negligence, having conducted some 200 mediations during that time. He has now decided to become a full time independent mediator.

Mark has been a member of Littleton Chambers for over 25 years and established himself as a leading professional negligence lawyer instructed by many of the leading firms in the field for both claimants and defendants. He has been listed as a leader in the field in the Directories for many years.

He is joining the first Mediation Chambers in Europe, Independent Mediators, who are still the only group of independent mediators who have their entire practices managed exclusively by their own administration team.

Independent Mediators is comprised of a select number of top ranked, totally independent mediators Charles Dodson, Michel Kallipetis QC, Bill Marsh and Nicholas Pryor and was launched two years ago. During that time they have been appointed in excess of 600 mediations.

To appoint Mark or one of the other mediators or to find out details of their practice and fees please contact:
